

The Minuteman Printshop set of fonts and clip-art is the premier publishing tool for every computer user interested in creating projects with an 18th century look and feel.

The kit contains seven fonts used by colonial printers and over 200 finely detailed, authentic clip-art images. In addition, eight different border fonts let you place classic borders around any text. The Colonial Bullets font contains whimsical little illustrations to lighten up block text. Two signature fonts contain the autographs of major personalities from the Colonial and Revolutionary War era - if you need a document signed by George Washington, simply press a key and his signature appears on your document! Our clip-art has been scanned at high resolution, and our TrueType fonts look great no matter what size you print them in.

The Minuteman Printshop is widely used by Living History and re-enactment organizations, by institutions, such as the Old State House Museum in Boston, by many schools, and by individuals interested in history and typography. It is well suited for a wide variety of projects, such as documents, flyers, broadsides, brochures, product labels, books and web pages. It works with most word processing and graphic design software, so you needn't learn a whole new software program.
